The benefits of our secondment services

We add value to your organisation the right way and from day one. The main benefits for you are:

Service delivery – Our clients are at the heart of everything we do. We demonstrate a client service mindset where we listen first, understand and respond with positive and proactive solutions.

Quality outcomes – We aim to partner with you to deliver practical results and can help upskill employees by working alongside teams to encourage knowledge sharing and information transfer.

Understanding your needs – We take the time to get to know you and understand your specific needs. This enables us to provide tailored solutions, including your preference for the secondee to work with you in-house, remotely or a hybrid of both and ensures we offer you the right secondee to help achieve your goals.

Reach-back support – Every secondee has access to our extensive national team of specialists and can leverage reach-back support if, and when required.

Competitive pricing – We are a leading law firm with exceptional people and work with you to provide cost-effective, value adding solutions.

Access to specialised expertise – Our secondees are highly experienced experts in their field. They have a personable and practical approach, working collaboratively to serve with excellence and agility. Many have been on multiple secondments and understand the role of a secondee and the value they can bring to an in-house team and environment.

Government panels – Our services are accessible through most government panels, ensuring flexibility and value for money.

Dedicated secondment team – We have a dedicated secondment team who provide pre-secondment briefings and sector/client-specific training for our secondees. We conduct quarterly check-ins with both you and our secondees to obtain practical feedback to help us improve.

Efficiency and cost saving benefits – Our secondees are trained to hit the ground running and will work with you on practical solutions that add value from day one.

What our clients say:

'I found the experience of engaging with Sparke Helmore in relation to the secondment very professional and am appreciative of how accommodating the firm was to the needs of our legal team.'
